

A PRACTICAL DEADLOCK PREPARING TO STRIKE

Within 48 Hours Most Gigantic Railway Strike in History May Be Called

Grand Chiefs Ridicule Plan to Compel Unions To Arbitrate

Railway Managers Are Notified How Another Conference May be Held--Will Western Roads Recede From Their Present Position?

(Bulletin)
Chicago, March 28.—The strike committee of the railway employees this afternoon rejected the offer of the National Civic Federation to arbitrate the proposed strike.

Chicago, March 28.—With the most gigantic railroad strike in history about to be called, the general managers of over 40 western systems embracing 95,000 miles of trackage, demand governmental interference in order that the entire railway business of the west may not be completely paralyzed.

A. B. Garretson, grand chief conductor of the order Order of Conductors; P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and 200 committeemen from the locals on the western railroads, met this morning to perfect arrangements for a strike in the event negotiations with the roads are not reopened. They notified the railway managers that the latter could obtain another conference if they would assure the labor chiefs the demands of the men for 12 per cent increase would be the subject for consideration. No conferences will be granted the managers unless they pledge themselves to confine the deliberations to the twelve per cent proposition.

The managers reiterated their determination not to consider this demand and the situation is a practical deadlock, with the unions preparing for a strike. Within 48 hours, unless the roads recede from their position the union men predict the strike will be in effect.

Morrissey and Garretson ridicule the plan to compel the unions to arbitrate. The Erdmann act which provides for arbitration they assert, may be invoked and an award may be made as prescribed, but if the award does not concur with the views of the unions, they deny that any of the men can be forced to return to work either by injunction, mandamus or any other legal process. Morrissey said:

"The law defeats its own purpose. Its provision, that no one can be forced to work contrary to his desire is simply declaratory of the provision of the constitution which makes the whole law nugatory insofar as it affects the men. The law might be applied to the railroads, but we do not care to invoke it. Our strike chiefs are all here. We have funds available and are ready to proceed unless the railroads grant our demands." COMMISSION IS EXAMINING THAW THIS AFTERNOON

WHETHER SLAYER OF WHITE GOES TO ASYLUM DEPENDS UPON HIMSELF.

JEROME TO EXAMINE THAW

District Attorney Insists That He will Treat Prisoner as Any Other Witness.

(Bulletin)
New York, March 28.—At 2 40 this afternoon the Thaw lunacy commission went into executive session for the examination of Thaw.

Whether or not Thaw goes to Matteawan now depends entirely on himself. His attorneys declare he can demonstrate that he is perfectly sane today. If he fails to do so the fault will be his own. Dr. Evans, the defendant's alienist, called on Thaw in the Tombs today. Hartbridge also says an effort will be made to prevent Jerome cross-examining Thaw. Jerome insists that he will treat Thaw as any other witness.

Broken Heart.

Pittsburg, March 28.—John Brislin, 73, blind, and a well-known inventor, died here from a broken heart, alleged to have been brought on by adverse sustained by litigation brought by him to control his patents. Mr. Brislin was the inventor of the famous Brislins-Vinnac table now in use in rolling mills throughout the world.

James Henry Smith, one of the wealthiest capitalists of New York city, died at Kyoto, Japan. Smith was on a wedding tour around the world.

It's a bad sign when a fellow forges a check.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Every Section of Country Pressing for Material—Stocks Low, Deliveries Slow.

Cleveland, O., March 28.—The Iron Trade Review today says New tonages in iron and steel are not conspicuously active but there is unmistakable evidence of strength in those materials that were inclined to weakness. This change is most clearly shown in pig iron. It is becoming increasingly difficult to secure spot shipments either from southern or northern furnaces, a fact which has aided in strengthening the market on all deliveries. No price changes have yet appeared other than a firm refusal to shade $23 Birmingham for spot Southern No. 2, and an indisposition to go less than $18.50 Birmingham for the last half. Manufacturers of sheets are overwhelmed with orders and specifications, one producer having nothing to offer for the next four to five months, while the best delivery obtainable from many mills is 15 weeks. The movement in structural steel improves with the approach of warm weather, and mills are rapidly filling with specifications. Cast iron pipe was active this week, contracts closed aggregating 7,500 tons. A round tonnage of steel bars has been placed with mills for delivery in the second half. Scrap shows an upward trend.

"The movement of wire products continues of an unprecedented nature. Every section of the country is pressing for material stocks being low and deliveries slow.

The scarcity of semi finished material has seriously handicapped many of the mills and it will be some little time before they can return to their average maximum production. The Humbert Anderson and Morewood plants of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Co., are closed on account of lack of steel.

You can't always make both ends meet by stretching the imagination.

It is possible to make light of your rival and still throw him in the shade.

CLERKS DISMISSED

For Attempting to Organize Union in Railway Mail Service.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 28.—Hugh G. Shaug of this city has been dismissed from the railway mail service for his part in the organization of the Brotherhood of Railway Mail Clerks. A. H. Stephens, superintendent of the railway mail service of the Pacific coast, says: "The action of the department in the Shaug case indicates that the department will not tolerate the brotherhood." Mr. Stephens will leave April 3 for Washington to attend the convention of superintendents of the railway mail service. It is also said that C. L. Hobbs and Marcus L. Shaug, officers of the brotherhood in San Francisco, are to be dismissed for their part in the movement.

Von Buelow on Morocco.

Genoa, March 28.—Prince Von Buelow, who is at Rapallo, spoke reassuringly to friends concerning the Moroccan situation, saying it was not so bad as reported by some people. Germany, the chancellor said, did not look with disfavor upon the occupation of Oudja, if this occupation were temporary, nor would any other country be opposed to such a step. France was acting for the protection of the interests of other countries in Morocco, and, the chancellor concluded, Germany's interests are identical with those of France.

SPEEDY TRIAL

Demand by Mayor Schmitz, Who Denounces Charges.

San Francisco, March 28.—Mayor Schmitz denied the truth of charges published in local papers to the effect that the prosecution has abundant evidence that Schmitz profited to the extent of not less than $30,000 from participation in the "bedding" operations, now being investigated by the grand jury. "These charges," he said, "are maliciously false, and as soon as I am afforded the legal opportunity I shall prove them to be so." He declared himself anxious for a speedy trial, and declared it outrageous that he should be kept for four months under a foul cloud with the prospect that the trial will be delayed for another four months. The mayor says this is no time for libel suits but when he has been tried and judged by a jury he will give no quarter.

BOILERMAKERS STRIKE.

Cleveland, O., March 28.—Three hundred boilermakers of the Standard Oil company struck today because compelled to work with non-union men.

Northern Pacific passenger train from Duluth to St. Paul was wrecked at Carlton, Minn. The engine, mail and combination cars were derailed and the engineer and fireman killed.

BASELESS RUMOR STARTS A RUN ON LICKING BANK

DEPOSITORS PROMPTLY PAID AS INSTITUTION IS IN GOOD CONDITION.

STATEMENT OF DIRECTORS

Officers Assure Public That the Bank Is Sound and No Cause For Alarm.

A baseless report has caused a number of people to withdraw their funds from the Licking County Bank and Trust company in the past few days.

There are various rumors as to what started the so-called "run," but be that as it may the bank is in excellent condition, its stockholders represent over one hundred of Licking county's substantial citizens, and it is ready to hand over in the cold cash to all who demand it.

Many who have called for their money have learned of the true situation and have gone away satisfied. Others who in their excitement have withdrawn their funds have returned their money to the bank.

The business men in the city are not at all alarmed and are making deposits today as usual.

Three of the directors, including President Fulton, are not in the city and could therefore not sign the foregoing statement.

That the announcement of the bank's sound condition is true is endorsed by all the leading financiers and business men of the city with whom Advocate reporters talked during the day.

West Baden Springs, Ind., March 28.—Charles (Chick) Stahl, captain of the Boston American baseball team, took carbolic acid this morning and died a few minutes afterward.

Exploded by Spark.

New York, March 28.—A spark caused by a blow from a hammer ignited a quantity of set pieces in the finishing room of the Consolidated Fireworks company at Graniteville, S. I., and in the explosion that followed Arnold Ruff, 50, was torn to pieces, a boy and two girls were probably fatally injured and seven other persons were burned.

American Consul's Report.

Washington, March 28.—The state department has the following cablegram from Philip R. Brown, secretary of the American legation at Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras: "Tegucigalpa was abandoned Tuesday precipitately. It was occupied by Nicaraguan and Honduran revolutionary forces. I assumed charge in the interval with the aid of the consuls and preserved order. The Bonilla government no longer exists."

GREAT PRESSURE BROUGHT TO BEAR UPON PRESIDENT

ADMINISTRATION'S ATTITUDE ON RAILROAD AND FINANCIAL INTERESTS.

ADDRESS DELIVERED APR. 12

President Hughtt Conferred With Mr. Roosevelt Thursday—Import- ant Conference Held.

Washington, March 28.—Great pressure is being brought to bear upon President Roosevelt to induce him to make an early and definite public statement regarding the attitude of the administration toward the railroad and financial interests. Yesterday he accepted an invitation to unveil the Rough Rider monument at Arlington cemetery on April 12. It is expected that he will then respond to the demand for a public declaration concerning railroads and the stock market. The most important conference yet held was at the White House last night. Secretaries Cortelyou and Garfield, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, Chairman Knap and other members of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Special Counsel Kellogg, participated. It is believed that the immediate occasion for the conference was the representations made to the President by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association. It presented a gloomy picture of the financial and industrial outlook unless President Roosevelt should do "something." President Hughtt of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, conferred with the President today.

POSTOFFICE SITE NOT YET FOUND

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL WRITES TO NEWARK REAL ESTATE COMPANY.

Three Sites Were Offered, but None Is Available—Situation Here Explained.

In reply to a recent communication from the Newark Real Estate and Improvement company as to the status of affairs regarding Newark's new postoffice site, J. H. Edward, assistant secretary of the treasury, informed the company that none of the site proposals so far received is satisfactory, and the department deems it inexpedient to take action with regard to the matter.

It will be remembered that three sites were offered; namely, the H. D. Woodbridge residence, South First street, $18,000; the Seiler hotel, the price not named, and the Newark Real Estate and Improvement company's offer of the combined Kellenberger, Speer and Mohlenpah properties on the corner of Canal and South Second streets. On this last offer the price was placed at $40,000.

The government's specifications as to dimensions of the property, required that it be 140x150 feet and on a corner. Each of the properties offered fulfills this requirement, but it is on other points that the government agents are dissatisfied. So, Newark will probably not have her new postoffice for a few more months. The letter to the Newark Real Estate and Improvement company follows:

Washington, March 12, 1907.

Receipt of your communication of the 9th instant, stating that you see there has been an appropriation of $40,000 for postoffice site at Newark, Ohio, and requesting to be informed whether your proposal now on file will be considered, or if you will be required to submit a new proposal, etc.

In reply you are informed that the limit of cost of site and building in this case has been fixed at $90,000, the $40,000 referred to by you having been appropriated by the act of March 4, 1907, "For site and continuation of building under present limit," the sum of $20,000 having previously been appropriated under said limit.

As will be seen, the limit of cost of site and building has not been increased, but remains as originally fixed, nearly $90,000.

You are further informed that none of the proposals so far received are satisfactory, and the department deems it inexpedient to take action with regard to the matter.

Respectfully,
J. H. EDWARD,
Assistant Secretary.

AGREEMENT TO SEND GIRL TO ASYLUM IS OFF TODAY

JENNIE BIRCH DEFENDANT MRS. BIRCH MOTHER ELIZA DAKEN GRANDMOTHER PHILO DAKEN GRANDFATHER JAMES DEMPSKY ATTORNEY FOR DEFENDANT

Carmel, N. Y., March 28.—In beginning his case in rebuttal today, against Jennie Birch, the 15-year-old slayer of baby Wilbur Winship, District Attorney Weeks showed that the agreement between defense and state to send the child to Matteawan, is off. Weeks announced he would ask for a first degree murder verdict.

"Prosecutor Weeks, however, has no idea Jennie should be sent to the chair. He believes the jury in giving a first degree verdict should recommend mercy, making it possible to have her sent to an institution for life.

How far the pitiful story of Jennie Birch's birth will work upon the jury of farmers will largely influence the verdict. Told by her mother and grandfather, the story moved jurors and spectators to tears. Mr. Powniski, Jennie's mother, laid the patent of her daughter on Isaac Field, son of a wealthy man of the county. She told of her betrayal at Field's hands when she went to his father's house as a servant when she was 15 years old.

Attorney Dempsey, Jennie's counsel, hopes by showing that the secret of her birth and a realization of what the taunts of her playmates meant came to Jennie's knowledge when she was in a critical period of her own life and unseated her reason, to secure a verdict of acquittal. If he succeeds, he will not oppose steps to have her sent to an institution for treatment.

El Paso, Tex., March 28.—H. C. Everson, manager of a large ranch in western Sonora, Mexico, belonging to Philadelphians, who was reported murdered by Yaqui Indians 18 months ago, is alive and has arrived in this city. It was the report of Everson's supposed murder that caused the Mexican government to forbid Americans entering the Yaqui country for a time.

For Sons of Railway Employees.

Philadelphia, March 28.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad company accepted the offer of Anne Frank and Clarie Thompson, children of the late Frank Thompson, a former president of the company, to establish the "Frank Thompson scholarships," in order to give the sons of living or deceased employees of the line of the railroad an opportunity for a technical education. The directors accepted a fund of $120,000. The scholarships will be worth $600 a year each.

POLICE COURT NEWS OF A DAY

"SMITTY THE TOUGH" APPEARED
AMONG MAYOR'S VISITORS
THURSDAY.

Chas. Shaw of Coshocton Another Before His Honor—Case Was Postponed.

"Smitty the Tough," a Zanesville character, graced police court with his presence Thursday morning. There was nothing in his demeanor on this occasion that would show that he had any right to his title. He was very peaceable and took his medicine like a man. Smitty was charged with being drunk and begging. He pleaded guilty to the drunk charge and was fined $5 and costs and the stone pile sentence tagged on the end. The charge of begging will be looked into further. He was arrested by Officer Howard. He gave his right name as Frank Smith.

James King and James Stone, both charged with being drunk, were sent in by Officer Callan from the Hungarian saloon in East Newark. Each pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs and sent to the stone pile.

James Dewar, an old timer in police court, faced Mayor McCleery on Thursday morning on a drunk charge. He pleaded that he had not been before his honor for several months, but the plea did no good. He was fined $5 and costs and sent to the county jail.

Charles Shaw, a Coshocton man, was found at the Pan Handle station at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. He did not give a satisfactory account of his presence there to the officers and was sent down. He insisted in court that he was innocent of any wrong doing. His case was postponed until Friday morning.

Samuel McManis was sent in last night by Officer Liming on a charge of loitering. He was found at the Smith lumber yard asleep. McManis was in a bad condition Thursday morning. His case was continued until Friday morning and McManis was allowed to go to his home on his promise to appear in court.

The fancy for narrow braid as trimming is shown in the model gown pictured. This frock in the original was of light blue mohair, criss-crossed by fine lines of white. ON GOOD FRIDAY

Special Musical Service at Trinity Church Passion Cantata Olivet to Calvary.

Tomorrow, Good Friday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, there will be a special musical service at Trinity church when J. H. Maunder's beautiful Passion cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," will be sung by the large vested choir. The soloists will be Mr. Walter W. Flora, tenor, and Mr. Wm. H. Reynolds, baritone.

This cantata is Mr. Maunder's latest work in this line and has never before been sung in the state of Ohio. It is, however, already extremely popular in the east, and in England, the home of the composer.

"Olivet to Calvary" recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the reflections suggested thereby. The rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the Temple, and the lonely walk back over the Mount at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part II. opens with the Supper of the Passover, at which Jesus washes His Disciples' feet, and gives to His friends the new commandment of love for one another as the sign of true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the infinite pathos of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by His disciples, His utter loneliness among the ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the Judgment Hall, the Passage of the Cross, the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

The following is the complete program for the evening:
Organ Prelude, Andante from Symphony IV., Widor.
Processional Hymn, "O, Sacred Head Surrounded," Hassler.
Good Friday, collects, etc.
"Olivet to Calvary," Part I.
Offertorium, Organ, Melodie in G, Guilmant.
"Olivet to Calvary," Part II.
Concluding "Amen" from the Great Liturgy.

Recessional Hymn, "O Come and Mourn," Dykes.
Organ Postlude, Fugue in D major, Guilmant.

MOTORMAN IS PUT UNDER ARREST

FOR FAILING TO STOP CAR AT STREET CROSSING IN EAST
NEWARK.

Mr. Lybrand Gives Bond for Appearance Before Mayor, Probably on Friday.

The first affidavit against the Indiana, Columbus and Eastern traction company for failing to comply with the instructions of the police department to stop at street crossings in East Newark, was filed Thursday morning before Mayor McCleery by O. D. Wilson, an East Newark man.

The car which failed to stop on signal at the Buena Vista street crossing was No. 62 and left the interurban station at 7:45 o'clock. The name of the motorman and conductor could not be learned, but a John Doe warrant was sworn out and placed in the hands of Chief Sheridan.

Mr. Wilson told the mayor that his aunt wanted to go to Crooksville on Thursday morning and intended to go as far as Zanesville on the C. N. & Z division of the interurban. They tried to board the car at Buena Vista street but the motorman ignored their signals and refused to stop. The car continued to the Pan Handle railroad crossing where it was compelled to stop to flag the car over the steam road.

Mr. Wilson stated that he was in the street, within a foot of the track and had to step back as the car whirled past. He was very indignant over the matter and as his aunt desired to return home tonight, the action of the motorman inconvenienced them very much.

Mr. Wilson went direct to the office of Chief Sheridan who advised him to file an affidavit against the motorman. This was done. As the motorman did not return until 10:30 o'clock, the warrant could not be served at once.

Motorman H. K. Lybrand, who was on the "front end" of Car 62, which failed to stop at the Buena Vista street crossing Thursday morning, was arrested as he left his car at the interurban station here at 10:30. Chief Sheridan made the arrest and the prisoner was turned over to Officer Zergiebel who at once took him before Mayor McCleery.

Supt. Moore of the traction lines, appeared in court, and the question was discussed at some length. Lybrand was finally put under bond for his appearance in court, probably Friday afternoon.

An effort was made to learn the name of the motorman in order to insert it in the affidavit. This was before the car came in. The various persons on duty at the offices here refused to give out any information, and the name on the register in the dispatcher's office, was changed before the chief got there.

A complaint was made to the traction office before the warrant was served, and Motorman Lybrand was called to the phone at one of the switches east of the city and reprimanded for failing to obey the signal. This at least, is the report that was circulated Thursday morning.

BOOM AT MT. VERNON.

Mt. Vernon, O., March 28—E. H. Fairchild of the Corliss Engine company, of Mt. Vernon, was in Columbus yesterday looking after some business affairs. Mr. Fairchild said that Mr. Vernon is having quite a boom and all her manufacturing plants are running steadily. "At our place," he said, "we have never been so busy. We have had no cancellations but plenty of new orders and we are having trouble in getting work out on time. We see nothing which would indicate any letting up in industrial activity."

RHEUMATIC FOLKS!

Are You Sure Your Kidneys Are Well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive. Don't dally with "uric acid solvents." You might go on till doomsday with them, but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended. Here is a Newark testimony to prove it.

Charles Rose, of 549 West Main street, Newark, Ohio, says: "Rheumatism attacked me in the back and joints and I felt touches of it all over my body. I do not think there was a joint that did not pain. My work requires me to stand in water almost constantly, and I think wet feet was the first cause of my trouble. After suffering for months and months without being able to get anything to help me, I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Crayton's drug store. The day I began using them I was aching all over. My case was so severe that I used three pills three times a day, and in 48 hours from the time I took the first dose the pain had almost entirely disappeared. I continued the treatment for some little time, and have had no return of my trouble since. I have been working in the wet for the past twelve months without suffering at all from my kidneys."

Machinery and Labor.

A generation or two ago men and women worked very long hours, and children had to work, too, in order to produce enough to support the workingman's family. The growth of capital and the employment of machinery have added so much to the efficiency of labor that long hours for adults are no longer necessary, and the industrial employment of children under fourteen can be entirely dispensed with.—American Review of Reviews.

LICHTIG OPTICAL CO.

Will Make Specialty of Grinding Lenses for Spectacles—New Industry Here.

Newark is to have a new industry which is expected to employ about twenty persons when it is in full operation.

Mr. William Darks, former proprietor of the Darks bakery on West Main street near Fourth, has associated himself with the Lichtig Optical company and will be in charge of the manufacturing department which is soon to be established. The feature of the new industry is the fact that the company will make a specialty of grinding lenses for spectacles and eyeglasses. At present it is necessary for local opticians to send to Columbus or other cities in order to get lenses properly ground to a certain consistency.

At present the lenses will be prepared in the room over the Stardevant jewelry store, North Park Place, and will occupy the greater part of the present quarters of Dr. E. Lichtig. As the business enlarges a change of location may be considered. The new industry will probably be in operation by April 10.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, looses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WEDDINGS.

LAYTON-PRIEST

A quiet but pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Sprouse on East Locust street, when Mr. Robert Layton and Miss Ida May Annis Priest were united in marriage, Rev. H. Newton Miller solemnizing the ceremony.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. Reece Evans and Miss Laura Patterson. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Layton will make their home for the present, with Mr. and Mrs. Sprouse.

LOVELL-CHOPSON.

On Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the parsonage of the Central Church of Christ Mr. Frank Earl Lovell and Miss Bertha Chopson were united in marriage by Rev. H. Newton Miller. The bride is the daughter of Mr. George Chopson of near Utica, while Mr. Lovell is of Croton but is in the employ of the B. & O. at this city at present. Mr. and Mrs. Lovell will make their home in Newark.

MILLS-WOLCOTT.

Pataskala, March 28—Mr. John O. Wolcott of Newark and Mrs. Kittie Mills of Pataskala, were united in marriage Sunday evening last at 5:30 o'clock, by Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington at the Pataskala parsonage and in the presence of the bride's three children and Mrs. Elizabeth Cherrington. Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott left the same evening for Newark where the former is employed and where they will make their home.

The best wishes of many friends follow them.

PALMER-EVANS.

Mr. Clifton H. Palmer, a prominent young farmer of Pataskala Rural Route No. 5, and Miss Rosetta May Evans of Summit Station, were united in marriage on Thursday last, March 21, by Rev. Mr. Keenan of Reynoldsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer who have the best wishes of a host of friends, will go immediately to housekeeping north of Wagram.

AMUSEMENTS

KERMES AGAIN TONIGHT.
The Kermess given at the Auditorium Wednesday night and which will be repeated tonight, was a very pleasing entertainment. The affair is under the direction of Mrs. Weller and is for the benefit of the schools. It consisted principally of pretty steps, drills and singing. In all, over 600 children ranging from the age of two and a half to 17 years, took part. Pretty costumes and cute movements of the many children made the entertainment very enjoyable.

RED FEATHER.
Miss Cheridah Simpson, who is to appear in the title role of the comic opera "Red Feather," here on Monday evening, April 1, was during the past summer the star of "Seeing New York."

NURSERY BENEFIT.
A marvelous and unapproachable performance of Prof. E. K. Crocker's horses, pony, mule and donkey show will be given at the Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon and evening of April 3, for the Day Nursery. This wonderful troupe of 23 animals will appear in Newark for the first time since its return from a 12 years' stay abroad.

THE LION AND MOUSE.
Charles Klein is one of the few playwrights to be persistently attracted by the dramatic possibilities in American politics today. In his latest play, "The Lion and the Mouse," which is to be presented here April 4, he has dealt trenchantly with the power of the moneyed interests in American politics today. The play and the company are altogether admirable.

This is the play which comes to the great southern theater, Columbus, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and night, April 2 and 3, and which, in all probability will prove the big theatrical event of the season.

On Friday, April 5, matinee and evening, the Henry W. Savage Grand Opera company will render the sensational international success, "Madam Butterfly." The details of this production are given in a special article in this paper.

A LAND OF MYSTIC CHARM.

Beauties of Modern Syria as Seen by a Woman Writer.

Here is a vivid description of the Biblical plain of Esdraelon, taken from Mrs. A. C. Inghol's "Under the Syrian Sun." "Instantly our gaze went and with it our hearts went out to the strange beauty of the plain of Esdraelon, spread out just beyond the rolling ranges of the Galilean hills. It was like some beautiful sea with its softly green billows sweeping inland in broad graceful curves between the boundaries of its northern and southern hills. And upon this limpid, seemingly liquid surface rested big cloud shadows of deep velvety purple. The billows were the cultivated stretches of the plain, and the cloud shadows indicated the broken, tilted soil. When in reality the shadows of clouds moved across the billowed richness of the great meadow—as the natives called Esdraelon—the effect was sublime beyond description."

Of Baalbek the same author says: "So overpowering was the first impression of loneliness and awe created by the sudden sight of the giant pillars towering in the mystic blue light that instinct bade one creep behind the nearest giant stone wall and hide—hide from the guardians, the genti, who seemed to be lurking in the dark depths between the fallen pillars, to be immovable as sentinels in the penumbra of the vast colonnade. But there description fails. The wonders of that whole magic area through which we wandered as under a spell outstrip expression."

"The veil of the supernatural lay lightly alike on the untouched surface as on the totally buried relics, now laid bare by the persistent burrowing of the searchers after truth. Ghosts of the long ago hovered near. In the light which transfigures all things earthly with an atmosphere that is supermundane they whispered strange tales of the phantom world, which at the moment seemed vivid and real, but in the brightness of the morrow vanished as a dream which memory yearns in vain to retain."

Knicker—This was called a rich man's panic because there were no failures. Bocker—Then is marriage a poor man's panic?—New York Sun.

STONING A TIGER.

The Punishment of a Man Eater That Killed a Tibetan.

Fifty years ago tigers were very common even in the high hills of western Tibet, writes C. A. Sherring in his account of that country. At the present time, however, owing to the increase of population and the general spread of cultivation, they have become rare, and the appearance of a man eater who carried off a poor old woman on the slope of Chupla created consternation.

On the following day there were gathered together a hundred grim men, armed only with axes and stones, for they had not a gun among them.

Fortune favored the brave, for the tiger was found asleep under a rock. At once each man dropped silently into the cover of the brushwood and piled a heap of stones near to his hand, while one of the most trusted of the party was commissioned to stalk to the top of the rock and drop a huge stone on the sleeping brute.

So well was the work done that the stone fell true on the tiger's back, and immediately, with a roar, the wounded beast sprang up and, seeing his enemies, who leaped from their cover, charged the line.

But a hundred men, desperate as to consequences, throwing stones with might and main, are not to be awed or turned from their purpose lightly. The stones broke the tiger's teeth and went into his mouth, and his body soon became a mass of wounds.

Turning, he tried to escape and took his pursuers up hill for a mile, but wherever he paused and whatever he did he could not escape the pitiless rain of missiles. The blow on his back, first given, effectively checked his speed, and finally, worn out, he came to bay under a great cliff.

The rest was easy. He was immediately hemmed in, and the stones were showered on him thicker than ever and hurled with redoubled energy. As he sank down the villagers rushed in and dispatched him with their axes.—Youth's Companion.

WHEN ELSIE WAS LOST.

By Morris Cooke.

Copyright, 1907, by C. H. Sutcliffe.

"Is there room?" Elsie looked apprehensively at the crowded car. "Easy," laughed Taylor. "Here in New York we don't call a car crowded until there are people sitting on the roof. He helped her aboard the platform and stepped aside to let two other women on, swinging himself on to the step just as the car started.

Elsie looked back nervously at Taylor and called warningly, "Do not get lost, Tom."

He waved reassurance, and then some one in leaving forced her to step well into the car. This prevented her from knowing that Taylor had dropped off the car step to let some passengers alight and that the conductor had given the go ahead signal before he could swing himself back on again. Two other men regained the step, but Taylor was left in the street saying things about the traction company and all its employees.

All unconscious Elsie rode until the end of the run was reached, and the crowd thinned out before she was able to see that Tom was not on the car. She beckoned the conductor.

"There was a gentleman on the rear platform," she said.

"Lots of 'em," agreed the conductor. "But this one had a blue tie and a derby hat. Do you remember where he got off?"

"I'm not here to look after men in blue ties," he said crossly. "A crowded run is not conducive to politeness. 'Where do you want to get off?'"

"That's just the trouble," she explained. "You see, my aunt moved this morning. There was a fire in the apartment house in which they lived, and they had to change. It's uptown somewhere, but my cousin did not have time to tell me just where. He had just met me at the train."

"Better go over to the police station," he counseled. "Your folks will send out a general alarm probably, and then word will come to the station. Maybe there's some one where they used to live that can tell you."

"That's so," she said, brightening. "It's on Central Park West."

She named a number, and the conductor rang the bell. "Take a downtown car to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street," he said. "Transfer south on Eighth avenue. That's in the sixties somewhere."

"THEY DIDN'T LEAVE NO ADDRESS," HE LAUGHED.

Elsie dropped off the car with a word of thanks and hailed a car coming in the opposite direction. Not until the conductor stood in front of her did she realize that she had given Tom her hand satchel containing her pocket-book.

This conductor was less pleasant than the first one and refused to accept her story. There was no one else in the car, and with crimson face she blushed. She did not know how far it was, but she had a general idea of the direction, and she started bravely out.

The wind blew coldly from the river, and she drew her coat about her as she plodded along. Six blocks and the lamp post told her that One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street had been reached. She paused undecidedly; then, with sudden determination, she hailed a passerby.

"Eighth avenue?" he repeated. "Keep going. It's the street with the elevated on. You can't—is this Elsie Linton?" he broke off.

"Will?" she cried in sudden recognition. "I did not know you with that mustache on. And you're older too." "I ought to be," he said grimly, "between having to get out and hustle and losing the girl I loved."

"I suppose you have made up both losses," she said.

"Only the first," he corrected. "I've just this minute found the girl I love. But what are you doing here alone?" he demanded. "Been visiting and got lost?"

Rapidly she explained the situation, and his brow clouded.

"The Bellevue burned last night," he said. "Pretty well gutted. There may be a caretaker who will know where your aunt went. Let's go over and see."

He whisked her on board the car, and she settled back, with a sigh of relief. It was so comfortable to be taken care of again, and there was a new briskness in Will Benton's manner that brought comfort.

When the Benton Milling company had failed he was an idle and none too resourceful fellow. Now he spoke and acted with decision, and she was sorry that she had said "No" when he had put the all important question to her.

Their arrival at the transfer point interrupted her day dream, and as they changed to the Eighth avenue car he became more talkative. He sketched for her an outline of his struggles, a bare outline of his experience to which her own mind added the embellishments, and almost before she knew it he was signaling the conductor.

The Bellevue stood a smoke stained and gaunt wreck of what had been a fashionable apartment house, and a fire pail in the lobby was the only sign of life.

"They didn't leave no address," he laughed. "They were in too much of a hurry when they left. Only the doctor thought of that. The others just went to the hotels or to friends. The furniture is all here. They had insurance, and they can't move it until the adjusters get through. Try the postoffice."

The substitution gave no better result. The carrier declared that he would not be permitted to give an address, but admitted that as yet he had received no instructions for forwarding mail.

At the police station the desk sergeant telephoned headquarters, but no alarm had been registered yet. "Maybe it will come in," he counseled. "Why don't you go and get dinner and come back? I may have something for you then."

"That's so," laughed Benton. "You must be pretty hungry after all this walking. Let's go down to the circle and have something to eat. It will do us both good."

Across the table Elsie's depression vanished. Will kept chatting of every thing except her portion, and it seemed like old times back home when a party of young people ran up to town for the theater and had supper afterward.

It was not until the coffee was reached that he became serious again.

"What shall we do," he asked, "in case the alarm has not been sent out? I think you had better go to a hotel, wire your mother and wait for her answer. There's a hotel up the street here. I know the proprietor, and he will see that you are well looked after."

"It will be so, lonesome," she said, with a little shudder. "It is the first time that I have ever been in New York, and it is all so strange."

"I used to live down in this section of the town," he said. "There is a minister I know—I don't want to seem to take advantage of your plight to repeat my proposal, dear, but I should be the happiest man in New York if you would say 'Yes.'"

For answer her hand stole across the table and clasped his. "You are sure it is love and not pity?" she asked.

"It has always been love," he said. "I never accepted your decision, and it has helped to make a man of me."

"Let us go," he said simply. But Benton understood.

Half an hour later they emerged from the quiet rectory.

"Shall we stop at the station?" laughed Will.

"Auntie might be worried," she said. And they turned their steps toward the green lights. The desk sergeant smiled as they approached.

"They're waiting for you just around the corner," he said, naming an apartment hotel. "They were in here just after you left. I told them you were coming back. Miss Linton, isn't it?"

"No," said Will proudly. "Mrs. William Benton now."

And as they descended the steps Elsie hugged his arm.

"I wish," she said, "we could find that conductor that found you for me, Will."

"It's not every conductor," he laughed back, "who puts a girl off a street car into matrimony, bless his heart!"

The Catamaran.

While it is rarely employed by Europeans as a method of travel, even in emergencies, the catamaran of the Madras fishermen of India is by all odds the most extraordinary of water vehicles. It consists simply of three logs lashed together and flush with the surface of the water. On these a fisherman (sometimes two or more fishermen) stands and with a single oar paddles himself far out to sea. A Madras fisherman will venture out when boatmen will not launch their craft, and even in weather when boats cannot be launched he will go through the surf and out to ships with letters for the delivery of which he gets a few pence. In order to catch their ships a few belated travelers have been known to trust themselves on catamarans. They are united in the statement that the ride on the logs was the most nerve trying experience they had undergone in a land that holds a new thrill for the stranger at every turn. The sea and an occasional ducking have no terrors for these natives, not even the extremely young and in reality the catamaran is not entirely to be scorned, for it is after all nonsinkable.

Real Causes of Earthquakes.

While civilized man is trying to grasp the meaning of an earthquake the uncivilized of all ages have long ago realized their doubts. In Mongolia it is the beatings and skippings of a huge frog that cause the mischief, in China a gigantic dragon, in India a world beating elephant, in Celebes a bog and in other countries the scheme is varied by the introduction of a bull and a tortoise. Earthquakes in Siberia are believed to be due to the frolics of mammoths who live in the center of the earth while in Vancouver island it is the spirit of evil with his marshaled hosts of all the wicked people who have ever lived.

BABY AODAD JOINS AXIS DEER IN PARK.

New York, March 27—Godfather Stork who is ever busy paused in Central Park Saturday to see how the little axis deer, which he had left the week before, was getting along. Finding that it was growing rapidly and that its mother kept it carefully covered with straw, he went on his way rejoicing.

As Mr. Stork swept along toward Harlem an old aoudad, perched with his wife on a miniature crag, snorted a welcome. Godfather Stork, pleased at the salutation, observed that, although poor, they were honest and absorbed their end in placid contentment, so he left a little aoudad to cheer their hearts.

BOWSER'S LOVE NOTES

Wife Reads Some of His Gushy Missives of Long Ago.

HE CALLS THEM FORGERIES.

Incident Breaks Up What Promises to Be an Evening of Happiness and Contentment—She Proves He Was Like Other Swains.

[Copyright, 1907, by C. H. Sutcliffe.]

The wind was howling and the snowflakes flying as the Bowser family sat down the other evening to tea at his cigar and newspaper and Mrs. Bowser to her book—and for half an hour the cat purred in contentment on the hearth and peace reigned supreme. Then Mr. Bowser laid aside his paper and exclaimed:

"By George, I wish every one in this world was as happy and contented as we are tonight! This is home, Mrs. Bowser, the sort of home every man pictures to himself when he marries, but which seldom comes to any man. We can sit here and have no feeling of envy or enmity toward any human being."

"It pleases me to know that you are satisfied," she replied.

"Satisfied? Why, I would be a barbarian not to be satisfied. I don't think there is another woman in the world who tries harder to make home what it ought to be."

"Thank you, dear."

"There are times when I kick and grumble and say things I shouldn't,

"THIS IS HOME, MRS. BOWSER," but don't you forget that all you do is appreciated to the fullest extent. I sometimes want to kick myself for being the old crank I am. Hereafter when I am in one of my tantrums don't pay any attention to what I say."

Overcome by Remorse.

Mrs. Bowser saw that the conversation was leading to perilous paths and would have been glad to check or turn it. Every wife knows that a husband who gets a good fit on is just as dangerous as when in a fault finding mood. He is apt to overdo it. She spoke about the price of meat going up again without any seeming cause for it, but Mr. Bowser didn't care if chuck steak went up to a dollar a pound. Remorse was gnawing at his heart, and he wanted to set himself right.

"How mean of me to want to take this cat's life!" he sighed as he bent over and stroked the animal's back. "Had I succeeded in killing him it would have been almost as bad as murder. Right here and now, Mrs. Bowser, I promise you never to thirst for his gore again."

"I see by the papers that Taft says he will take the presidential nomination if the people seem to want him to," she said in answer.

"I don't care two brass pins for Taft and his ambitions. I'll take the nomination myself in the same way. As a matter of fact, I have been an old kicker around this house and am sorry for it. Has a husband any right to kick about the gas bills? Does his wife burn the gas to spite him? Does she burn the coal for the same reason? If a water pipe bursts, is she to blame? A month ago a boy threw a snowball and broke a window. I came home and fairly howled over it and laid all the blame on to you. One night two weeks ago I found a potato on the front steps. I entered the house with it in my hand and lectured you for half an hour on your extravagance, and then it turned out that a boy had hit the door with the tuber. Mrs. Bowser, I don't deserve as good a wife as you are."

"You are simply a little impulsive and impatient at times."

"It is sweet and kind and nice of you to say that, but I know and feel that I am little less than a criminal. However, I am going to make a complete change in myself. From and after this date if I so much as give you a cross look I hope the whole neighborhood will turn out to give me a coat of tar and feathers."

Mrs. Bowser wiped away a tear of widely gladness, the cat set up a new purr of satisfaction, and Mr. Bowser swallowed the lump in his throat and picked up his paper again. The calamity might have been averted had his eye not lighted upon an article that had escaped his attention before. He read it over twice and then struck the stand a blow with his fist and exclaimed:

"By thunder, that man ought to be sent up for life!"

"What is it?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"It's a man in Chicago trying to divorce his wife. He says he was hypnotized in marrying her, but she shows over a hundred love letters from him. By way, that makes me think. Did you write any love letters while we were engaged?"

Her grave mistake. Mrs. Bowser should have promptly lied about it and said no. She ought to have known that nothing on earth will provoke a husband, no matter how good he is, to the sight of one of his silly old fashions. Indeed, she did know it; but, the contrary, she had carefully saved every one and had a wife as well as a womanly pride in them. She therefore after a moment's hesitation answered:

"I believe I wrote me two or three."

"I hardly think so. I was not one of the mushy sort. After I had told you that I loved you and wanted you to be my wife I settled things. Did I gush in any of the brief notes I sent you?"

"Some of your brief notes were six page letters."

"No! Never!"

"I can't say it you gushed. You called me an old fellow and said you could not live without me."

Mr. Bowser died up and laughed without mirth. He asked to see any such letter and added:

"Come, now, I see if I was as bad as the rest of them, I'd take my dying oath that never wrote a word of love, but pshaw I've forgotten. Just bring down three or four of the letters and we'll laugh over them."

"But you'll—y'd get mad."

"Nonsense! I should I get mad over something that happened twenty years ago?"

She went upstairs after the letters, and Mr. Bowser sat a change taking place within him. When Mrs. Bowser came down with three or four letters in her hand he laughed in an uneasy way and said:

"Behold the proof in your breach of promise suit! No, then, read away."

"And you won't?"

"Go ahead."

"Well, here's a letter beginning 'My little darling old bluebell angel. When I got it—'

"I deny that begins that way!" shouted Mr. Bowser as the scarlet came to his face.

Then Trouble Began.

"But you can do for yourself. I don't see why you should be ashamed of it. Here is one which you say: 'Heaven has no angel compared to thee. If anything should happen to you I'd hang myself within an hour, for life to me would be nothing.'"

"By the jumping crutch, Mrs. Bowser, do you want me to make out that I was the biggest sinner in America at twenty-three?" he sputtered.

"Of course not. You loved me, and you talked and wrote like all young men in love. It was fully sweet and nice of you. In the letter here you say that you have notated or slept for three days and nights for thinking of me. I cried when I read the words."

"I wrote that must stuff, did I?"

"Yes, and here in it say that if we should quarrel and should look upon you coldly you would blow your brains out."

"Never! Never! This living world did I write such stuff!"

"But you can do for yourself. You don't deny your own handwriting, do you?"

"I do! I hereby declare these letters base forgeries!"

"Why, dear, how can you talk that way? If you were in love with me, why shouldn't you write this way?"

"Mrs. Bowser," I said as he rose up in awful majesty, "I planned for an evening of happiness and contentment. I felt that you were a true helpmeet, and I praised you, I praised our home. It made you envious to see me happy, and you brought down these forged letters to make me feel bad. You have accomplished your base purpose. You have wrecked my evening. Good night to you."

"But where are you going?"

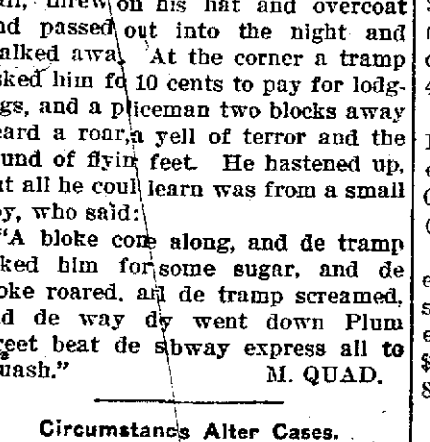

"Never you mind. I have been stricken down by the knife of the assassin, and you can grin and chuckle and enjoy your triumph."

And with that he stalked down the hall, threw on his hat and overcoat and passed out into the night and walked away. At the corner a tramp asked him for 10 cents to pay for lodgings, and a policeman two blocks away heard a roar, a yell of terror and the sound of flying feet. He hastened up, but all he could learn was from a small boy, who said:

"A bloke come along, and de tramp asked him for some sugar, and de bloke roared, and de tramp screamed, and de way dey went down Plum street beat de subway express all to squash."

THREAT OF SALE MADE AT MARION

TRACTION COMPANY OFFICIALS REFUSE TO FIX UP SUITABLE BALL PARK.

Business Men May Come to the Front as Did Those of Youngstown Recently.

Marion, O., March 28.—The sporting fraternity of this city was dealt a severe shock yesterday when it was announced by the management of the local baseball company that the Marion team of the Ohio and Pennsylvania league might be offered for sale within the next few days.

The information caused a decided sensation where it was thought everything was settled for Marion to enjoy a successful season. Manager Ferd Drumm has 24 players signed for the season and the team is expected here April 10 for preliminary work.

The trouble resulted from the officials of the Columbus, Delaware and Marion electric railroad turning down the baseball company in the matter of donating a ball park. Marion evidently did not benefit by the trouble at Youngstown and waited patiently thinking the railroad would do the right thing at the right time.

In this way they were greatly disappointed as, at a conference yesterday, President Webb flatly refused to spend any money regarding the fixing up of a park south of the city along the tracks of his road. It was figured that the road would be willing to spend $3,000 on the park and that fully $5,000 could be realized during the season from fares.

Just what step will be taken now is unknown. The local company figures that with the additional cost of fixing up suitable grounds the game will prove a losing one. A meeting of the board of directors has been called for Wednesday. Manager Drumm has been sent for and will be present at the meeting.

President Wollenweber yesterday refused to discuss the matter until after the meeting. Unless the C. D. & M. comes to terms with the local management several of the directors are of the opinion that the club will be offered for sale. A movement among the business men is on and they may donate enough money to keep the team here by securing and fixing up the grounds.

A man may feel that he is blessed with many friends, but the friends may feel differently.

UMPIRES NAMED FOR O-P LEAGUE

BOBBY HART AND LOUIS STEINBERG ARE NEW APPOINTEES JUST NAMED.

Manager Breen Has Reported at Lancaster—No Mill Vote on Schedule.

President Charles Morton of the O. P. league, has named two more umpires, completing his staff of five men. The new appointees are "Bobby" Hart, captain of the Youngstown polo team, and Louis Steinberg, who played halfback on the Canton football eleven last fall. One of these new appointees will act as substitute, and the other, with William List, William Bannon and Arlie Latham, will form the regular staff.

Jimmy Breen, the new manager of the Lancaster O. P. team has arrived and sent out notices to all the players to report on April 3. The fans are well pleased with Breen's appearance and predict a prosperous season for the "Lanks" under his management. The first game will be with the "Youngsters" of the Cincinnati Reds on April 7.

There will be no adoption of the O. P. schedule by mail vote, according to word received by the Sharon baseball management from President Morton. On account of protests from several clubs it has been decided to hold the recently called league meeting at Cleveland on April 2 to revise and adopt the schedule.

The Youngstown club will question the right of Ferd Drumm, manager of the Marion team, to sell "Bill" Miller to Steubenville of the P. O. M. league. The baseball law provides that waivers must be secured from every club of a league before a player can be traded or sold out of the league. The contest of the sale will be made on this rule.

MARION CLUB IS NOT ON MARKET

Marion, O., March 28.—O. Wollenweber, president of the local baseball company, denies that the sale of the club is considered. He admits that there is trouble with the C. D. & M., but says it is not at all serious. President Wollenweber says that there will be a satisfactory settlement of the park question at a meeting which will be held Thursday.

MORE TROUBLE AT LANCASTER

OLD DIRECTORS SUE DAVIDSON AND SMITH FOR AN ACCOUNTING.

Claim $400 From Sale of Franchise and Property and Want Courts to Settle the Case.

Lancaster, O., March 28.—Charles P. Nestor and Frank Matt, directors and stockholders of the old Lancaster Baseball club, filed a petition in Common Pleas court Wednesday afternoon against James A. Davidson and Harry Smith, in which they ask for an accounting of the affairs of the club up to this season.

Nestor and Matt were directors of last year's organization and they claim an equal interest with Davidson and Smith in the sale of the franchise, rights, etc. They claim that after the payment of all the debts and a disposal of all its property there will be more than $400 coming to each of them. They allege that the directors refuse to make an accounting and ask that said partnership be dissolved and a receiver be appointed therefor if necessary, with power to collect and dispose of all said partnership property.

Smith, who is now in the Franklin county jail, was served with papers in the case through the sheriff of that county.

WHEELING WILL NOT PRACTICE HERE

LETTER FROM MANAGER OF THE STOGIPS SAYS PARK THERE IS IN BAD SHAPE.

The Club Will Try to Use it Anyway to Avoid Expense of Training Abroad.

Mr. E. T. Johnson, one of the managers of Idlewild park, received a letter Thursday morning from Manager E. V. Perkins of the Wheeling baseball club, thanking him for the offer to play and train this spring at Idlewild Park. Mr. Perkins stated in his letter that the team would be able to do light work on the outfield. He stated that the park was in very bad shape but says they can get along for a week until the repairs can be made.

When the word was received here that the Wheeling club was looking for a training ground, Mr. Johnson at once communicated with the Wheeling management offering Idlewild park.

FRANK LOCKE SIGNS.

Lancaster, O., March 28.—Frank Locke, who has been holding out for more money to play here this season, sent in his contract Wednesday signed. He is a great favorite here among the fans, who are rejoicing over the good news. This leaves Rattis and Elston as the only members of last year's team that have not signed their contracts.

Clark vs. Roofing Co.
The case of A. S. Clark vs. Sykes Iron & Steel Roofing Co. was argued Wednesday in the Circuit court by B. G. Smythe on behalf of plaintiff in error, and A. A. Stasel on behalf of defendant in error. This proceeding is being prosecuted to set aside the judgment of the Common Pleas court wherein a judgment was rendered in favor of the company. The points insisted upon in the argument on behalf of Clark are that the claim of the company has been paid in full; second, that the case was once tried before Squire Sayers of Granville township and a judgment was rendered there in favor of Clark and that an appeal not having been taken from that judgment, the same is final. Third, that the suit was not properly brought in the name of Sykes Iron and Steel Roofing company because the same is not a legal entity, and that the same company was not the real party in interest, and fourth that the claim was long since barred by the statute of limitations.

Columbus, O., March 28.—Representatives of the Independent Telephone association of Ohio were in annual convention at the Hotel Hartman, Frank C. Beam, president of the association, being present and wielding the gavel.

Delegates present represented the nine districts into which the state is divided, and included representatives from practically every city and town in Ohio. Matthews, Cincinnati; "Taxation," Frank T. Davis, Columbus; "Present Conditions," J. B. Hoge, Cleveland; "Co-operation Between Local and Long Distance Telephone Companies," Stacey B. Rankin, South Charleston. A banquet will be served this evening, at which Governor Harris will respond to a toast. Reply to Shippers. Cincinnati, O., March 28.—The petition of the Cincinnati shippers to the Queen & Crescent and Louisville & Nashville railroad for a revision of rates that would remove alleged discriminations in rates has been definitely refused by both lines, according to reports published here. Presidents W. W. Finley and Milton Smith in their answers deny that discrimination exists, and in a nine-page document set forth the reasons and arguments which govern their action.

Epidemic of Meningitis. Columbus, O., March 28.—Dr. Probst of the state board of health returned from Castalia, Erie county, where he was called on account of an epidemic of spinal meningitis. There have been 15 cases to date and 12 have resulted fatally. More than half the population of 1,800 has fled from the village. All efforts to trace the source of the epidemic have failed. Some were disposed to attribute the trouble to the water supply, but Dr. Probst says the water is apparently pure.

Sues the Estate. Lisbon, O., March 28.—The probate court here commanded Robert Bruce Williamson to appear on Friday and tell why he has not filed the will of the late General James W. Kelly of Wellsville. Kelly's estate is valued at about $150,000, and the state authorities already have taken possession of his real property, no will having been found. Williamson, who attended the general, got a verdict of $5,000 for his services.

Will Reorganize Line. Columbus, O., March 28.—It was announced here that the Columbus, Urbana & Western traction line has been sold to Philadelphia and Indiana capitalists, who will reorganize it as the Columbus Northern Traction company with a capital stock of $1,400,000. Urbana has been abandoned as an objective point and the road will be extended to either Lima or Bellefontaine.

Brother Played With Matches. Bellefontaine, O., March 28.—Myrl Grimes, the 5-year-old daughter of Eugene Grimes, was probably fatally burned in a peculiar manner. tel by swallowing carbolic acid. No cause is assigned for the deed.

Not the Original. Cincinnati, O., March 28.—Suit for $5,000 against the estate of the late Gustav Mosler, artist, son of Henry Mosler, artist, was begun by Herman Serodino of this city on the ground that a picture which he bought as the original "De Profundis," that was the prize winner at Paris in 1901, was not such original, and that it therefore had depreciated in value. Serodino asserts in his petition that Mosler represented to him that the picture was the original, and that it took first prize in the Paris salon in 1901. The art museum of Toledo claims that the copy it has is the original.

Failed to Open Doors. Wellston, O., March 28.—The S. E. Evans Grocery company, the largest in the county, failed to open the doors of their stores in this city, Jackson and Oak Hill. No assignment has been made.

NO MORE NEGROES

Announcement Made That the Texas
Recruiting Station Has Received Orders

Houston, Tex., March 28.—Announcement was made at the local recruiting station that orders have been received from the war department at Washington instructing that no more negro troops be accepted for service in the army. Announcement was also made that all negro troops in the United States would be dispatched forthwith to the Philippines. The reason the order was issued discontinuing further recruiting of negroes is because the existing military organization authorized by congress had now been filled up to its maximum strength, including the battalion of the Twenty-fifth infantry, the members of which were dismissed without honor as the result of the Brownsville affair.

Stolypin, has telegraphed the governor of Bessarabia urging immediate energetic measures to prevent the spread of disorders in that province.

New York, March 28.—Richard Mansfield, the actor, who is ill, will be kept closely confined to his home until the first week in May, when he probably will be taken to his country estate in England. IS CHAIRMAN OF COMMISSION

David McClure, Prominent Attorney,
Succeeds Justice O'Brien.

LATTER UNABLE TO SERVE

Men Named by Court to Inquire Into
Mental Condition of Harry Thaw
Meet and Perfect an Organization.
Open Sessions to Be Held — Jury
Excused Until Monday.

New York, March 28.—When the members of the lunacy commission named by Justice Fitzgerald to inquire into Harry Thaw's present state of mind had been sworn in, there came the sudden announcement that former Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, the chairman of the commission, had resigned. In a letter to Justice Fitzgerald Judge O'Brien stated that upon reflection he was forced, because of the condition of his health and professional engagements previously entered into, to decline to serve as a member of the lunacy commission.

Judge Fitzgerald immediately made a new order appointing David McClure, a well-known attorney of this city and a member of former Police Commissioner McAdoo's advisory committee of citizens, to fill the vacancy. Mr. McClure met the other members of the commission, and was selected as chairman. He announced that the first session of the commission would be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the courtroom where the trial has been in progress. The commission's inquiry in general will be an open one, although there will be executive sessions from time to time.

Justice Fitzgerald in discharging the jury until next Monday warned them to be careful not to discuss the case in any way or to read any newspaper accounts of what is taking place. It was said that in directing the jury to report next Monday Justice Fitzgerald did not wholly expect that the commission will be ready to render an opinion by that time. If the commission's inquiry is prolonged, the jury will be called into court every few days in order that it may be kept in fact for a resumption of the trial should Thaw be declared sane at the present time. The committee hopes to get under way without any delay whatsoever, and will press the inquiry to the speediest possible conclusion.

Harry Thaw was brought into court and found all the members of his family awaiting him. He looked exceedingly well physically and smiled a greeting to his mother, his wife, his sisters and brothers.

Train Derailed. London, Ala., March 28.—Engineer Fitzgerald was killed and Baggage-master Galt and one passenger were injured in the derailment of a westbound Louisville & Nashville passenger train a mile west of Thomaston. It is alleged that iron piled on the track caused the entire train to leave the track.

BOY ARRESTED

Roy Bourquin Charged With Attempting to Blow Up a County Hospital.

Cripple Creek, Colo., March 28.—Roy Bourquin, 17, was arrested here charged with attempting to blow up the county hospital with dynamite. He placed several sticks of dynamite on the hospital furnace, but luckily it was discovered in time. Had it exploded, heavy loss of life doubtless would have resulted. Bourquin has a mania for explosions. A year ago he lost an eye and his right hand as the result of setting off dynamite.

DESPERATE BATTLE WITH OUTLAWS

Durango, Mexico, March 28.—In a desperate fight between rurales and a band of outlaws under Gumersindo Ortega, in the San Juan Del Rio mountains, Ortega, who was considered one of the most dangerous bandits in northwestern Mexico, and his band were driven into the mountains with the rurales in close pursuit. From the district in which Ortega and his band have been operating numerous reports have been received of murderous attacks and robbery.

LIEUTENANT

Of Twenty-fifth Infantry On Brownsville Row.

Washington, March 28.—Lieutenant George Carson Lawerson, who was in command of Company B, Twenty-fifth infantry, on the night of the affray at Brownsville, was on the stand in the investigation by the senate committee on military affairs. On practically all material points his testimony corroborated that given by the men of his command and also that given by the men of Companies C and D. He was shown bullets taken from the walls of houses in Brownsville, but could not say whether they had been fired from the Springfield rifles, with which the Twenty-fifth infantry was equipped, or whether they had been discharged from Krag-Jorgensen cartridges by Krag rifles or carbines. He further gave testimony inferring that the shells picked up in the streets may have been discharged on the range at Fort Niobrara and carried to Fort Brown, and also that he was certain that two of the rifles identified by expert examination of the shells as having been used to fire a certain lot of the shells had not been out of the chests in which they could be packed at Niobrara.

A SCHEME

For the Federal Regulation of the Railroads.

Washington, March 28.—An important conference was held at the White House, at which the railroad situation generally was discussed. Present were Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou, Secretary of the Interior Gaffield, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, Chairman Knapp and Special Counsel B. Kellogg of the interstate commerce commission, and all the members of that commission except Messrs. Prouty and Cockrell, who are out of the city.

After the conference adjourned it was stated that the meeting was called to outline a scheme to be presented to the next congress for the federal regulation of the railroads of the United States.

Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, arrived in Washington and will call at the White House to discuss the railroad situation with President Roosevelt.

CAUSE OF SLUMP

Explained by Financial Expert of the London Mail—Story of Recent Crisis.

London, March 28.—The financial expert of the Daily Mail has written a story of the recent financial crisis, which he says is accepted in reliable quarters. "One of our big banks," the writer says, "had lent a huge sum to one of the American magnates, the security being mainly Union Pacifics. The bank decided this loan should be repaid, but on meeting with refusal, it resolved to liquidate the security by selling the Union Pacific shares in its possession. An attempt to get rid of them in large blocks on the other side of the Atlantic by private negotiations failed, and consequently a very large quantity was put upon the market. Those knowing these circumstances formed the natural conclusion that trouble would ensue, and sold other securities."

REWARD OFFERED FOR TRAIN WRECKERS

Philadelphia, March 28.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company offered rewards aggregating $5,500 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons involved in the wrecking of its trains near Pittsburgh. The derailment of the Chicago limited last week and attempted wrecking of the Keystone express Wednesday led to a conference of officials to discuss the matter, and subsequently the announcement of the rewards was made.

HELD FOR WRECK

Against Engineer and Conductor
in the West.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 28.—The coroner's jury investigating the cause of the collision between two Santa Fe passenger trains, which resulted in death of five persons and the injury of a score of others, returned a verdict finding Engineer Kelly and Conductor Humble guilty of disobeying orders and the Santa Fe guilty of neglect in not providing a proper block signal system and also for operating passenger trains faster than the speed limit.

LOOT LOYAL DOMAINS

Vienna, March 28.—Dispatches received here from Cernowitz, on the Moldavian frontier, say that conditions in certain parts of Roumania are still most serious. Grave disorders are reported to have broken out on the estate of King Charles at Poiana, and troops have been sent to the royal domains. It is rumored that large numbers of peasant rioters have been killed in conflicts near Braila and Palesca, and it appears that a large number of rioters in trying to enter the town of Galtz were repulsed with a loss of 20 men killed. Then the peasants turned their attention on Braila.

SEARCH FOR BOY AT SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Tex., March 28.—According to the statements of the local detective department, who have been searching for Horace Marvin, Jr., who disappeared from his home in Dover, Del., March 4, a child answering the description of the missing boy has been seen here by several parties, but when an effort was made to locate him the child disappeared under rather mysterious circumstances. The local search, however, is being continued.

Russian Editor Shot.

Moscow, March 28.—Dr. Jollos, editor of the Russki Viedomosti, was assassinated by an unknown youth, who shot him with a revolver as he was leaving his residence. The murderer escaped. Dr. Jollos was a member of the lower house of the first Russian parliament.

WESTERN ROADS MAY BE TIED UP

Forty-five Thousand Trainmen Now
Threaten to Strike.

CONFERENCES SO FAR FAIL

Railway Managers Declare at the Final Meeting That Their Offer is the Best That Can Be Made—Union
Representatives Hold a Secret Session—Arbitration May Be Asked.

Chicago, March 28.—The federal government will likely be asked to intervene to prevent a threatened strike of the conductors and trainmen on the western railroads, and if the plans of the general managers do not miscarry, the whole controversy will be submitted to arbitration for settlement. The general managers gave out a statement in which they declare that they will demand arbitration under the Erdmann act.

The 45,000 trainmen of the roads seem nearer a strike now than at any time since the negotiations were begun, two months ago, with the general managers for an increase in wages and a shorter workday. The latest conference between the representatives of the men and railroad officials lasted four hours, but was a failure so far as bringing about a solution of the trouble. The railroads offered the men increases of 7 per cent to passenger conductors and 10 per cent to minor employees. The latter include brakemen, firemen, baggage-men and allied workers. The men had demanded an increase of 12 per cent and a nine-hour workday, and when the railroad officials declared their offer was the best that could be made the conference came to an end, as the men by a referendum vote taken last week had decided not to accept anything but what their demands called for.

Immediately after the joint conference broke up the representatives of the men got together to consider the advisability of calling a strike in order to bring the railroads to terms. Just what decision was reached is not known, as the union men declined to discuss what had taken place at the meeting. They were a unit, however, in declaring a peaceable settlement of the controversy can only be reached by the general managers offering concessions. Another meeting of the union has been called, and the general belief is that a strike will be called within the next 24 hours unless the railroad officials request another conference to try and settle the matter without resorting to a fight.

P. H. Morrissey, chief of the trainmen's organization, said: "We have been instructed by the men we represent to call a strike unless the offer of the roads was satisfactory to us. The vote by which this attitude was reached carried the strike proposition by a tremendous majority. We are not satisfied, and the men are not satisfied. We are not going to ask for any more conferences with the general managers. It is up to these gentlemen now to prevent the men quitting work, and the only way they can do this is to accede to our demands." A. B. Garretson, chief of the conductors, also declared that no further conferences would be held with the general managers.

CATHOLIC'S REQUEST

Rome, March 28.—The prominent Anglo-Saxon prelates now here have presented to the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val, a memorandum setting forth the importance of the Anglo-Saxon Catholic world, compared with the remainder of the Catholic world. It was stated in the memorandum that the Catholics in the United States, Canada, Ireland, Great Britain and the British colonies number in all about 45,000,000, and it was asserted that no Catholics so vigorously took up the cause of the church in its conflict with the French government as the Americans, Irish and English, who were classed as the wealthiest Catholics and as those from whom the holy see can expect the greatest amount of support. The memorandum concluded with asking for better representation of the Anglo-Saxons in the sacred college. It is believed that the step taken by the Anglo-Saxon prelates has had considerable effect.

EUROPEANS,

Escorted by French Military Mission,
Leave Oudja.

Lala Marnia, Algeria, March 28.—The French military mission has returned here from Oudja. With it have come all the European residents of Oudja, who report that the town is calm and the people do not suspect the forthcoming occupation. The Moroccan garrison in Oudja consists only of a small escort for the governor, and there is very little probability of any resistance to the French column. The Europeans of Oudja left all their personal property locked up in their houses.

Fredericktown, March 28.—Three rather serious accidents occurred here. Miss Edith Marshall was walking along the street when she tripped and fell breaking her right leg. T. A. Dill while riding on a wagon, stumbled over a stump which he was hauling and fell off, fracturing his left leg. Miss Mary Peterson fell off a teetering board and severely sprained her left arm.

COTTAGES AT THE LAKE.

One of the current rumors of the street, a part of which is based on fact, relates to some of the numerous and pretty cottages at Buckeye Lake. The people of Columbus and the people of Newark seem to have a sort of rivalry in the matter and a large number from both cities have built cottages for themselves at that pretty and convenient resort. Now it is reported that some of the owners of cottages have them on the market for sale. In this number is the cottage of Frank C. Smith, the Lancaster banker and baseball man, who is now in the Franklin county jail awaiting trial in the United States court for embezzlement. It is also said that Director Immel, who also has a cottage there, is offering it for sale—Columbus Press Post.

BURGLAR'S STORY.

It Was a Case of Dog Eat Dog, and They Quit Even.

"I don't agree with that article of yours about honor among thieves," he said to the editor. "You know, I was once in the burglary business. Don't start. I've quit it now, paid dearly for it and turned over a new leaf. Let me tell you the story.

"Years ago I lived alone in a rented house, where I stored my plunder. I had any quantity of gold watches, jewelry and silverware there. No one—not even my 'pals'—knew of this house.

"Well, one night I went on a raid alone, and in a trunk in a room where a woman and two children were sleeping I found five gold watches and any quantity of silverware.

"Have I struck a pawnbroker's shop?" was the question that naturally suggested itself.

"But I didn't waste any time in speculation, but hastened home with my haul.

"Arrived there, I discovered that my own house had been entered by one of my best friends in the profession (I knew his work and recognized in the neatness of the job his fine professional hand) and looted of everything.

"The next day we met and compared notes. It turned out that I had been to his house and he to mine. You see, we had meeting places, but neither knew where the other lived.

"Did you not know," I asked him, 'that you were robbing one of the profession when you entered my house?'

"I did," he said, 'but I didn't think it was you, Ben. But didn't you know the same when you were in my house?'

"Well," I replied, 'I didn't stop to ask too many questions.'

"We exchanged valuables, shook hands and said 'Good day.'—Atlanta Constitution.

A Good Home Remedy for Rheumatism, Kidney or Bladder Trouble.

A Valuable Spring Tonic and Blood Purifier.

The changeable days of spring will be responsible this year, as they always have been, for a great increase of sickness, particularly rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles. While the weather is to blame, we cannot change the weather unless we have the time and money which will allow us to get away from the cold, damp days of March and April. Unfortunately most of us are not so situated, and we have to make the best of conditions as they are. There are two or three valuable rules easy to follow which, if followed, would prevent thousands of cases of severe illness every spring and save thousands of lives.

The first, and one of the most important, "Don't take off that winter underwear too soon." Nearly all of us do this. When the first bright April sun comes out we forget that the next day is liable to be cold and raw, off comes the winter clothing—and the next day a severe cold, a touch of rheumatism or pneumonia. Keep on the winter clothing until well into May if you would avoid spring rheumatism and colds.

Second and most important we advise every reader to "Clean House." Every good housewife knows how necessary this is in the spring—and does it. What we mean is to apply the same principle to your bodies that every housewife does to her house. Clean out. During the long winter, while most of us are indoors a great part of the time, the system becomes clogged with impurities, the bowels become sluggish, the kidneys inactive. Poisons instead of being thrown off as they are during the summer while we are physically more active are stored up in the system. Principal among these poisons is uric acid, the cause of rheumatism.

What the system needs at this time is to be cleaned out, toned up and strengthened to stand the sudden changes in temperature, damp weather, etc. Instead of taking strong laxatives, or patent medicines which depend on alcohol for temporary tonic effects, we would recommend a simple prescription which can be filled at any drug store. It is as follows: Fluid Cascara, Aromatic, half ounce. Concentrated Barkol, Compound, one ounce. Fluid Extract Prickly Ash Bark, half a drachm. Aromatic Elixir, four ounces. Mix these ingredients together thoroughly and take one teaspoonful three times a day after meals and at bedtime. Children, one-quarter to one-half teaspoonful three times a day after meals.

This simple prescription has a threefold effect—it serves to regulate the stomach and bowels, stimulates the action of the kidneys and purifies the blood. By its action on the bowels and kidneys it causes a rapid elimination of all the waste products of the body, which are more numerous in springtime than at any other season. As a general tonic and blood purifier it is unequalled. Dr. Crozer, Edinburg, placed the famous Chicago specialist on rheumatism and kidney trouble is authority for the statement that this prescription is an almost certain cure for all forms of rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble. He uses it almost exclusively in his private practice and we are pleased to be able to give it to our readers with his permission. Any druggist can fill the prescription at a nominal cost or you may obtain the ingredients and mix them at home.

A Lady in the Case.

"Ancient Literary Headquarters." "Explorers in Egypt," said the man with the thick eyeglasses, "have unearthed a most marvelous collection of bricks bearing cuneiform inscriptions. There are millions of the bricks, some of them but half finished, and they are inscribed with poems, legends, stories, etc. Strange to say, none of the authorities in Egyptology can give a name to the buried province which is thus being brought to light."

Man's Plaint.

Full soon will come those awful days, So clear in every mental vision. When housewifery in varied ways Will hold our comfort in derision.

Again, no doubt, we'll dine alone On yesterday's cold storage rations And sleep on floors as hard as stone That bring nightmarish aberrations.

Again all loving, wifely ties Will lapse, and we will be requested At seven-thirty to arise And go—where we're more interested.

Already we almost perceive Tward suicide a dangerous leaning. For those are days that vex and grieve—When comes around the spring house-cleaning.

EVERY RHEUMATIC INVITED TODAY

TO TEST URIC-O FREE?

75-Cent Bottle Given Free to All
Who Apply

If there are still any sufferers from rheumatism in this country or where-ever this paper reaches, that have not yet tried the wonderful Rheumatic Remedy Uric-O, we want them to try it now at our expense. We firmly believe there is no case of Rheumatism in the world that will not yield to the wonderful effects of Uric-O, and we want to prove it to every doubter beyond all possibility. The best way to do this is to give a large trial bottle of this remedy outright to every sufferer and let him test and try it to his own satisfaction. If you or any of your family suffer from Rheumatism, no matter what form, just cut out this notice out of the paper and send it together with your name and address also the name of your druggist, to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse N. Y., and they will send you by return mail a liberal trial package free of all expense. There is no reservation to this offer. You take the remedy home and use it according to directions until thoroughly satisfied of its merits.

We could not afford to do this if we did not know that after you are freed from this dreaded disease that you will recommend it to all your friends who have rheumatism. We know from experience that personal recommendation from one person to another is the most valuable advertising, and that is the way we intend to acquaint the world with Uric-O. Don't put off writing because this offer will soon expire, and then it will be too late.
Do it today and start yourself upon the highway to perfect health and happiness. Send for Uric-O no matter where you live. It is sold by Druggists all over this country, and we want you to have a bottle free.

mended in Newark by Frank D. Hall,

BROKEN BOTTLE

Falling Upon W. F. Miller's Foot Inflicts Ugly Wound and Alarming Hemorrhage.

Will F. Miller, a well known packer at the Everett glass works, while engaged in loading bottles in a car at the plant, met with a very serious accident. A broken bottle fell, and striking his left foot, inflicted an ugly wound about one and a half inches in length just back of the big toe and dividing an artery, which led to an alarming hemorrhage after he had been brought to his home, several hours after the accident.
Several doctors were called and Mr.
Miller was given chloroform. The hemorrhage was arrested by tying the artery and the wound was then stitched. Mr. Miller is now resting very comfortably.
